In these words, ffe is code for the /f/ sound.
“Once upon a time, there was a ... “ one

once

In these words, o is code for the /wo/ sounds.
In these words, oul is code for the 'short /oo/' sound (as in 'book').
/air/ -eir -ere circle their things over there

eirere

Their house is over there!

In these words: their there

- the different spellings indicate the meanings.
to do

“I am going to ... “

too (also, as well)

“You can come to the zoo too!”

two

In these words: to too two

- the spelling indicates the meaning.
In these words, a is code for the /o/ sound.
In these words, \textbf{wh} is code for the /w/ sound.
Who is digging that hole in the ground? Whose spade is he using?
For whom is he digging the garden? He has dug the whole garden!

who whose for whom whole

In these words, wh is code for the /h/ sound.
In this word, ach is code for the /o/ sound.
In these words, ear is code for the /ar/ sound.
In these words, ai is code for the /e/ sound.
move   prove

In these words, o is code for 'long /oo/'.

Copyright Debbie Hepplewhite & Phonics International Ltd 2012